

Three Little Pigs at Home

SHERSTON SOFTWARE

Three Little Pigs at Home

“What's the time Mr. Wolf?”

Illustrations by Sally Pead

© Sherston Software Limited 1992

www.illustrationart.com

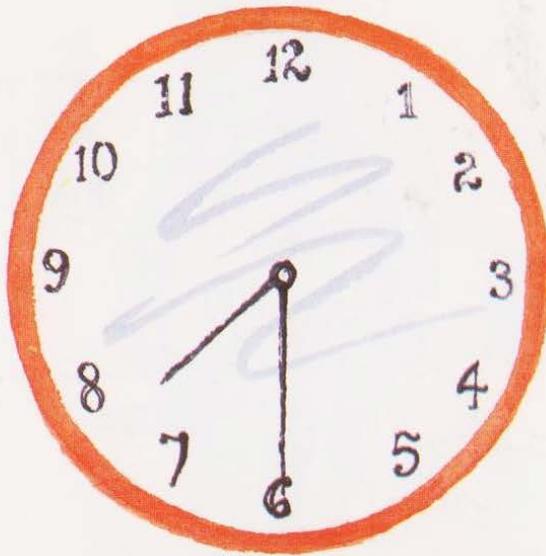

What's the time Mr. Wolf?

7 o'clock.

What's the time Mr. Wolf?

Half past seven.

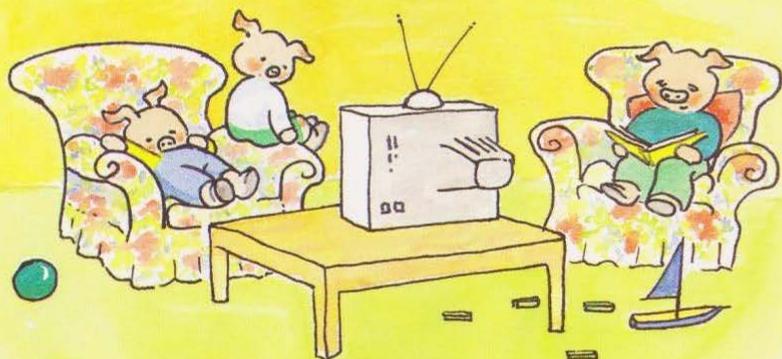

What's the best way to wash?

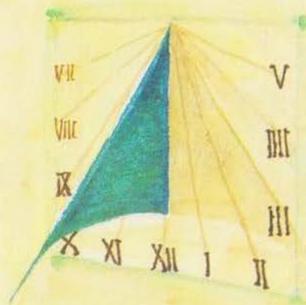

What's the time Mr. Wolf?

8 o'clock.

What's the time Mr. Wolf?

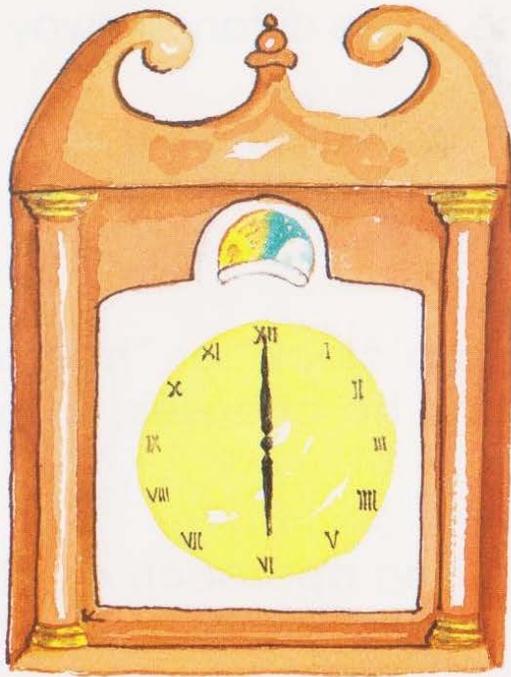

3 o'clock.

www.foxit.com

What's the time Mr. Wolf?

6 o'clock.
Dinner time!

“What’s the time Mr. Wolf?”

A traditional playground tag game.

The wolf stands with his back towards the other children in line, some distance away.

The children approach the wolf a few steps before asking all together, “What’s the time Mr. Wolf?”

He replies, “5 o’clock” or “half past two” or whatever time he chooses, without turning round.

The children can approach as close as they dare.

After several requests the wolf calls “dinner time!”, turns round and chases the other children.

The one he catches is the new wolf.

